

When you see him
Look him in the eye, look him in the eye
And he won't dare to follow
If you need to him with your eye, hook him with your eye
Do your wiggles and wallows
Sleep so tight but by a raven's legs
Killed upright, sniffing by his head
Takes his high with a bop on bed
Makes it joggle with his tune off legs

Wake up with a hatched over your head
You wake up with a hatched over your head

I can see you running
I can see you running
Gone in the blink of my eye
Gone, gone, gone in the blink of my eye
I can see you running
I can see you running
Gone in the blink of my eye
Gone, gone, gone in the blink of, blink of my eye

Open your eyes, chocking on his bed
Chocking on his bed, then grimace and smile
Take a toll, he is with cigarettes
He picks your brains, he's stomping on his chest
Sit his tone with one fast hand
Stuff his mouth with salty sand
Tie his arms up from his head
Rolling around like a rusty can

Wake up with a hatched over your head
You wake up with a hatched over your head

I can see you running
I can see you running
Gone in the blink of my eye
Gone, gone, gone in the blink of my eye
I can see you running
I can see you running
Gone in the blink of my eye
Gone, gone, gone in the blink of my, blink of my eye.
