

Greetings...Goodbye

Glasseater

this is me saying goodbye to you from this day forward i won't think about you this is me placing a mental blanket over our times together goodbye to you goodbye to us if somehow our lives intersect in the future fate will decide the outcome it has to be this way a selfish way to act but it's my only remedy in dealing with you so i'll use this pen and it's insides to conjure the thought of you one more time so here i leave you with goodbye the memories of you will end and be cast away as the ink from this tool of my thoughts runs out i'm saying goodbye you has these beautiful eyes and the way you carried yourself you made the impossible possible you opened my heart and shine light on the darkness i fell for you you can't just break me in two goodbye to you.
