

Someone Above

Glen Campbell

See the birds unfolding on the tress
See them blossom into leaves
Wise men know someone above has made it so

See the daffodil and crocus there
As they bow their heads in prayer
For they know someone above has made it so

When the raindrops fall, the flowers grow
And the rivers kiss the sea
But there'd be no rain, no river flow
If there live the fools like me

Man can build his city, plan his yard
Paint a picture called an art
But I know someone above has made it so

When the raindrops fall, the flowers grow
And the rivers kiss the sea
But there'd be no rain, no river flow
If there live the fools like me

I know someone above has made it so
