The Legend of Bonnie and Clyde

Glen Campbell

Bonnie was a waitress in a small cafe Clyde Barrow was the rounder that took her away They both robbed and killed until both loved and died So goes the legend of Bonnie and Clyde The poem that she wrote of the life that they led Told of the lawmen left dying or dead Some say that Clyde made her life a shame But the legend made Bonnie the head of the game The rampage grew wilder with each passing day Their odds growing smaller with each get-away The end getting closer the harder they fought With blood on their hands they were bound to get caught

They drove back from town on one bright summer day When a man they be-friended stepped out in the way With no thought of dying they both took his side But the death lay there waiting for Bonnie and Clyde Now two years of running was ended that day For robbing and killing they both had to pay We'll always remember how they lived and died So goes the legend of Bonnie and Clyde Bonnie and Clyde Bonnie and Clyde
