

Waiting

Glen Phillips

If I'd been sleeping
Wouldn't you just wake me
Senseless dreaming
You were always waiting

And doubt comes slowly
It surely overtakes me
Am I among the lonely?
You were always waiting

Is it falling apart?
Should I believe?
You could be thinking that about me
Is this your faith?
Is this your trust?
Have you just given up?

All our friends are retreating
Dreaming of escaping
Oh, hurry up they're leaving
You were always waiting

Is it falling apart?
Should I believe?
You could be thinking that about me
Is this your faith?
Is this your trust?
Have you just given up?

We've all been here before
I'm sure you wanted more
I'm sure I could have given it
But whatever your intention was
We made it this far because
You were always waiting, waiting

Well I'd like to think I'd help you
If you needed saving
But I'm drowning here, not waving
And still you're only waiting

Is it falling apart?
Should I believe?
You could be thinking that about me
Is this your faith?
Is this your trust?
Have you just given up on me?
Have you just given up?
Have you just given up on me?
Have you just given up?
Given up

You were always waiting
