

The Truth

Glenn Hughes

(Hughes)

Somethin' tells me
I've been livin' with the wrong plan
I'm frustrated, desecrated, feelin' less than
Hard to break, the road I take will be a winding one
Across the river, someday I will see a new sun

There can't be any doubt
You make me scream and shout

I'm looking for the truth
I want you to know
I'm looking for the truth
I gotta let go
I'm looking for the truth
I'm on my knees
And I can't go back
I'm looking for the truth

Wishful thinking
I'm done sinking
It's behind me
Escalated, rejuvenated to eternity
Somehow lately I've been mistaken for the wrong man
The silver lining keeps on shining I feel better than

There can't be any doubt
You make me scream and shout

I'm lookin' for sweet satisfaction
There can be no delay
And I want you to be there right away
Be there right away