

Save Me

Globus

See me take my bows And I'm heading for the exits I can't stick around This life's been hard And I can't see the sense in fighting it anymore Can't let you go Won't you show me the door 'Cause I've made mistakes That have hurt the ones I've loved And I
've thrown them under the bus One too many times There can be no redemption for a sinner such as I Won't you wish me to the cornfield now Won't you help me stop living a lie

So here I am in the corner of a dark room The same way I began Alone with these mournful thoughts And a loaded gun in my hand
But a foolish part of me Still holds out for a shred of humanity For a queen in a robe or a knight on a steed Can't you see that I'm just a child on his knees

Save Me from fear and pain And love will rain on me Save Me today,
'fore tomorrow Finds me at rest Save Me from fear and pain
And love come down and rain on me Save Me today, for tomorrow, find me at rest

Now I'm standing alone in the moment of truth As the judgement's handed down And my feet are scarred from the broken glass Str ewn across the ground Then you come to my side And only to you I confide That I've been battered and shattered and bruised and abused For the very very last time Won't you help me, just

Save Me from fear and pain And love reign o'er me Save Me, Save Me today For tomorrow will find me at rest Save me from fear and pain And love will rain on me Save Me today For tomorrow, find me at rest Find me at rest...
