Living Dead

Gloomy Grim

See them walking on the streets the same streets you are walking

They push you around and waste your space You hope that you have license to kill

You can not understand anything they say or where they are going to

Worthless life day by day
They only ruin your life
I only hope I can survive this or else I kill some of them

LIVING DEAD walking on the earth only wasting my time and space

Is there really anything to do to stop them walking? If you kill one There shall be many its like Medusa's head

Only thing you can really do is not to become like they are Keep your thoughts as they are don't listen to Their whining

Let the blood of the Dead bleed Let the eternal silence come

Turn your rivers into wine and I'll turn rivers into Blood

Silence is the only thing I need Total silence without any sound

Do I have to kill myself To obtain total silence?

Slow Death is the price you pay for living such a wasted life

Eternal rot in your grave

No one even knew you were here
