

Tomorrow Might Not Come

Gloomy Grim

Lost forever, but never forgotten
Taken too early from here
We wait for the day for our turn to come
The days are getting shorter

Brother, we don't meet again
But buy remembering you, you're here No need for any explanations of life or death I know that we are going to HELL - is where we all live

It is all what people need Some say that there is heaven above but who wants to go there?

Living in a lie is what some need, so they turn their face away I don't know why I give a shit, it is just so stupid

DEATH - Highest Power of them all to sacrifice your life in vain you can turn yourself into a monk

Live your life as never before or die for nothing you can't choose
Tomorrow might not come Prepare yourself for that Sometimes I envy those who can be blind and trust that they would live after death Tomorrow might not come

Taken too early from our side
We wait for the day for our turn to come
The days are getting shorter

Brother, we don't meet again
But buy memorizing you, you're here
No need for any
explanations of life or death
I know that we are going to Hell

DEATH - Highest Power of them all LIVE YOUR LIFE as never before or die for nothing you can't choose Tomorrow might not come
