

You Took Me In Again

Gloria Gaynor

I was proud of myself
So darn independent
I'd see you and give every remnant
With all my love that's what I gave all my love
What I got in return was a hurt that made me learn
You've been untrue now here you are looking good like some movie star
Yeah, you've been roaming around, just rolling in clover
Now you're back thinking you've won me over
No my dear I feel strange to have you here
It's still clear in my hand what you did and what you said
How can we touch when yesterday our two hearts were miles away?
I thought you might have changed but I was mistaken
Now I know you've really been faking changed
You ran a game
You took me in again
I should have slapped myself
I've just gotten over the end
You took me in again
I've just stepped off the shelf I was bad
So all alone you took me in again
And I need someone else
You're the master of lies
The greatest pretender
I see you and I just surrender with all my heart
Falling apart so weak at the knees
So ready to please
I long for you closing my eyes
Knowing you'll hurt me use and desert me
Oh no more lies I can see through your disguise
I have made up my mind
Life's too short to love your kind
Never again to this poor soul
Let you into take control
No, I've heard all of your lies your babe all your talking
Take your coat you can just keep on waking changed
You ran a game
You took me in again
I should have slapped myself
I've just gotten over the end
You took me in again
I've just stepped off the shelf I was bad
So all alone you took me in again
And I need someone else
I was proud of myself
So darn independent
I'd see you and give every remnant
With all my heart
Falling apart so weak at the knees
So ready to please
I long for you closing my eyes
Knowing you'll hurt me use and desert me changed
You're running a game
You took me in again
I should have slapped myself
You took me in again
I've just stepped off the shelf I was bad

So all alone you took me in again
And I need someone else
I was proud of myself
So darn independent
I'd see you and give every remnant changed
You ran a game
You took me in again
I should have slapped myself
I'd just gotten over the end
You took me in again
I just stepped off the shelf
I was bad so alone
You took me in again
And I need someone else
You're the master of lies
The greatest pretender
I'd see you and I'd just surrender with all my heart falling apart
So weak at the knees so ready to please
I'd long for you closing my eyes knowing you'll hurt me use and desert me
You took me in again
Changed
I thought it was me
You ran a game
No, no more lies cuz, I can see through your disguise
Changed
You ran a game
Why did I step off the shelf?
Changed
Now I need someone else
Oh I gave you all my heart just falling apart all my heart so weak at the knees
so ready to please
All my heart falling apart knowing you'll hurt me weak at the knees use and desert me still my heart no more lies falling apart weak at the knees ready to please
So darn independent
I'd see you and give every remnant changed
You ran a game
You took me in again
I should have slapped myself
I've just gotten over the end just stepped off the shelf
I was bad so alone
You took me in again
And I need someone else
The greatest pretender
I'd see you and I'd just surrender
Changed
You ran a game
You took me in again
I should have slapped myself....
