

You came for every single second I had
The way I loved you from just under my breath
Was a constant reminder that what beat in my chest
Wasn't mine anymore I'd guessed
You swore the sun you'd never do this again
Let down your guard and leave here more than a friend
There was a fire there could be one again
Where's the map telling me to begin

'Cause I won't let you burn out tonight

And you be the reason
I'll be the rhyme
We've both got way too much ahead
to worry 'bout what we've left behind
So you keep the beat
We'll stay on time
And fill the pages with just how both our worlds collide
When I'm left in your eyes

You needed something you could hold with your hands Something rebellious that you don't understand
Something that you were sure we'd never remand Won't you please clue me in on the plan

'Cause I won't let you burn out tonight
Let's just stay here. Don't breathe. Ignite

And you be the reason
I'll be the rhyme
We've both got way too much ahead
to worry bout what we've left behind
So you keep the beat
We'll stay on time
And fill the pages with just how both our worlds collide
When I'm left in your eyes

I hope to everything you never release
This hold you have on me
Where there's your signature on every piece
Of my heart that there could be

And you be the reason
I'll be the rhyme
We've both got way too much ahead
to worry 'bout what we've left behind
So you keep the beat
We'll stay on time
And fill the pages with just how both our worlds collide
When I'm left in your eyes
