

fid yourself down on your knees again the question is when's it gonna end?
It just seems this will never change It's the same shit as yesterday taking shots all that you can take and now you hate yourself more than you can hate there's gonna be an emergency i swear, it's at the stage where something's gonna break running like a freight train you're going insane it's just another day for all these bloody veins.
it's like a whirlwind pushin in the deep end you're screamin to a friend get out, get out, get out! soon the shit's gonna hit the fan you see its coming on like a hurricane tired of being pushed around now getting close you're at the edge if you're goin down everybody's goin down.
tired of being pushed around there's gonna be an emergency
