

If You Could Speak

God Help the Girl

I got out of bed
And came here for adventure
I stepped on a stone on the way
I took off my shoe
And a dog came towards me
Wagging his tail happily

Dog if you could speak
You'd know what to do
Simply turn around and run
Dog if you could speak you'd bury
Your bone and you'd
Show me the way back home

I got out of bed
And I put on my sun suit
Blue checky shirt and a dress
Nothing was left for a girl in pyjamas
No breakfast no kindness no cake

Girl if you could speak
You'd know what to do
Age has left a gift with you
Rent a cheap second hand
Crystal ball
I will trust my future to you

I got out of bed
When the springs wouldn't
Have me
They fired me up like a gun
Fell into my suit
And I walked out to breakfast
Green leaves and blue sky
And sun

Boy if you could speak
You'd know what to do
You sit and let the world go round
Remember all you saw
And tell it back in the stories
When the day is almost done
Remember all you saw
And tell it back in the stories
When the day is almost done
