Can't Come Down

God Lives Underwater

Starve myself from poison love memories With traces of what knocked me out Knocked me out

Act as if I'm just alright, but I've already lost my sight And you're treading ground without a sound Something for nothing, I know that I haven't given You know that I haven't risen above

Please believe me, round and round, hear the sound Reality crashing into me, I hear the sound But I can't come down

Fight for love or love to fight never knew my wrong From right, patiently, I wait for the day When it hits me hardest yet and it's real not Second best my hearts for you You know it's true
