

White Noise

God Lives Underwater

Another pendulum is swinging to the left
And to the left again
I tried to stay to the right
And do what's right
We're all where it's a constant fight
You know it

I've been the one away
I'll be the first to say

Now I've become the rat
In experiments that I invent
And I put myself through
I can't explain the process in my brain
All I say comes out the same
Like white noise

I've been the one away
I'll be the first to say
That where I've been is not cool
To be the one with nothing
I've always got nothing

I've been the one away
I'll be the first to say
That where I've been is not cool
To be the one with nothing
I've always got nothing
