

2000 Years Of Human Error

Godhead

I thought you'd tell me the truth
But when you opened your mouth
Out came a family of flies

the book was already read
Could never help us from
Your conglomeration of lies

You probably beleive what you told me
A never ending cycle of greed
Pass it down to each generation
Another flock of sheep to mislead

Scratch me harder
Till I bleed
God the father
Spreads his seed

Liars,Liars
You sell it all to me
Liars,Liars
I'm what you'll never be

And it feels so good when you've
Sold another plot in the sky
Like your teacher before you
Really know how to sell your life

Scratch me harder
Till I bleed
God the father
Spreads his seed

Liars,Liars
You sell it all to me
Liars,Liars
I'm what you'll never be

Give me something
Something real
Everything I see is nothing I can feel
Give me something
Something real
Everything I see is nothing I can feel

Liars,Liars
You sell it all to me
Liars,Liars
I'm what you'll never be
