Lies

Godhead

I can stand although my bones are breaking. Prop me up and see my soul is aching. Take the dirt upon the ground around me. Bury me inside the grave I built for you.

Walk into the room - Feel my stare of doom. Scars that line my face - Lies cannot replace.

I can see through you And I'll tell you.

All my life I've heard a thousand lies. Seen myself through someone else's eyes.

Kill you with my words - Get what you deserve.

I can see through you And I'll tell you.

All my life I've heard a thousand lies. Seen myself through someone else's eyes.

Remember what you did to me? For you know I won't forget. Now you've broken everything. Is your heart filled with regret?

All my life I've heard a thousand lies. Seen myself through someone else's eyes. All my life I've heard a thousand lies. Seen myself through someone else's eyes.

Remember what you did to me? For you know I won't forget...
