

The Reckoning

Godhead

Come to me, kill for me, worship me
Follow everything I do, act it out before me.
I'm the one they told you would come again.
Let me show you all the signs to bring about the end.

I'll take you down
To a hole where you will always be alone.
I'll turn you out
On a world that doesn't care if you belong.
I'll push you off
Of the throne that you erected for yourself.
You will be tossed
On the pile of all the filth that you created.

I watched you take the power in your hands and throw it all away.
I knew you would fall down again someday.
Come on now you know I won't hurt you.
Come on now I'm here to protect you.
Come on now I'll lead you to shelter.
Come on now you know.

I'll take you down
To a hole where you will always be alone.
I'll turn you out
On a world that doesn't care if you belong.
I'll push you off
Of the throne that you erected for yourself.
You will be tossed
On the pile of all the filth that you created.
