

What's Next?

Godsmack

Freezing me, take me by my hand
Show me things I can't understand
For now I'll wait and see
What will become, what will become of me
And time's not gonna wait, not for one day
It's gonna break us the same way

Some of us love and some of us hate
And some of us fear the end won't come our way

In death, life, what's next?
The only thing certain is death
Life, what's next? Is it the only thing?

Born in time, those things that we all love
Not knowing why or where we go when it's all done
So take all you can take
Learn from your life, make no mistake
It's all part of the way
And tell me why, why we're all blind
Why we're all blind from uncertainty

Some of us love and some of us hate
And some of us fear the end won't come our way

In death, life, what's next?
The only thing certain is death
Life, what's next? Is it the only thing?

So many questions, hoping answers somehow come to me
It's getting harder to believe
I'm trying to make sense of this matter
No way I can take
These circumstances helping me
No, I know nothing
I know nothing

Some of us love and some of us hate
And some of us fear the end won't come our way

In death, life, what's next?
The only thing certain is death
Life, what's next? Is it the only thing?

In death, life, what's next?
The only thing certain is death
Life, what's next? Is it the only thing?
Is it the only thing for me?
