Deliverance

Your words are so cold to me Indisposed, don't hear your orders Destroy the greatness of soul Normalize what's in your hands

Take a look from the future Get up from your dream and see Deliverance soon is coming For those who know I take a sword in my hand now I fight & kill Thanatos Feel the ground under your feet The roots so deep

Every step I chose to make was just a kind of torture I changed my ways Now positive the fear became

Can't control my arms Emergy too strong, I feel Hypnotize myself, Blood boils inside

For those who know, I want to be as clear, as real, as I protect Nothingness is all around I hate the taste of your words

Every step I chose to make was just a kind of torture I changed my ways Now positive the fear became

I hate the taste of my lost illusions I choose to live for the only reasons I felt on the ground I want to try Gojira
