Song Of A Devil's Servant

Golden Earring

Call my name and I'll be there To serve your majesty everywhere No instruction is too much for me Execute his order, like in a bad dream Ah, ah, ah

There's no use to run and hide For his eyes are open wide And when he finds you Those eyes will burn into your soul

I sold my life, without thinkin' twice But instead of fortune he gave me lies I'm facing hell to eternity The only way out is suicide for me Ah, ah, ah