We'(ve) been friends for a long term run Shared the goods and we shared the fun But it's true that nobody knows And no one can tell Why in heaven do these moments come Yeah, who in heaven lets these moments come When the truth gets twisted And somebody's ringin' hell's bell Yeah we seen some high times And it's too bad one's always sad You got 10 seconds baby and then I'm gone Gimme one reason for stayin' home

Time's up, I hope you make a million
And have a lot of pretty children
But this is my song gotta say solong
I'm always hopin' for the best in life
I try to put it right between my lines
But somehow you been missin' the clues
And you got me feelin' used
Yeah, we seen some high times
There's more to come, where they come from
You got 10 seconds baby and then I'm gone
Gimme one reason for hangin' on

Time's up, I hope you make a million And have a lot of pretty children And this is my song gotta say solong Time's up, I hope you get the picture For your case, there ain't no cure I'll be free and you'll be fine Time's up, I hope you make a million And have a lot of pretty children But this is my song gotta say solong Time's up So long, bye, bye
