Golden Smog

Don't it blow your mind?
Don't it blow your mind like the first time?

Circle the voices in a crowded room
Plays in my head so out of time
Kill me with kindness never enough I find

Don't it blow your mind?
Don't it blow your mind again?
Don't it blow your mind for the third time?

The dream is never over
The dream is never over

Envision a future still in black and white
Colors of youth run into gold
Blue is for sorrow, red is for sadder light

Don't it blow your mind?
Don't it blow your mind again?
Don't it blow your mind for the third time?

The dream is never over
The dream is never over
The dream is never over
The dream is never over

There's a part of you here, part of you everywhere
Looking around all that I see
Buildings and cars, modern technology

Don't it blow your mind?
Don't it blow your mind again?
Don't it blow your mind for the third time?

The dream is never over
The dream is never over
The dream is never over
The dream is never over
