

Anything

Goldfinger

After all this time you're still asking questions
You love to fill me up with emptyness
I'm a martyr in search of a party
I'm a lover in search of a quest

I can see that you don't want anything
I can see sometimes you don't want me
Just love me the times that I need you
I can say then that I am still free

Free-e-e-e-e-e-e

So you run I walk to the ocean
The water it breaks hard against the stone
The silhouette of you in the moonlight
Sends chills dancing right to my heart

I can see that you don't want anything
I can see sometimes you don't want me
Just love me the times that I need you
I can say then that I am still free

I can see that you don't want anything
I can see sometimes you don't want me
Just love me the times that I need you
I can say then that I am still free
