

Beast That Never Was

Goldfrapp

You're the veil in the morning blue
I couldn't sleep I was thinking
Of you
Of you
You'll be the keeper of trees and light
The elemental residing
With a cool wind
Blowing

I keep something back
Something back
I keep something back
Something back
Beast that never was
Here between two worlds

You threw the arrows you threw the knife
They spun around and went back to
To you
To you
Shimmering in the full moon's path
All blood and rhythm you're running
Through trees
To me

I keep something back
Something back
I keep something back
Something back
Beast that never was
Here between two worlds
