

Something divine in you
Something wrong but there's a right
Don't take long, can't wait all night
Something strong, like a hunger
Waiting here for you to come over

Nothing's wrong, it's alright
I can make your candles light
Something strong, take you over
Make you feel like you ain't been sober

Can't wait all night
Something strong, like a hunger
Waiting here for you to come over
Nothing's wrong, it's alright
I can make your candles light
Something strong, take you over
Make you feel like you ain't been sober

There's something divine in you
Something divine in you
There's something divine in you
Something divine in you

Damn, I caught feelings
Damn damn, I caught feelings
She bad as fuck, so appealing
God damn, baby, I'm comin'
Over, over, I told ya

Baby baby I need that you know
That will show you for sure that I will
I swear, my baby girl with blonde hair
Put your mother fucking hands in the air
And I don't give a fuck, cause I stare
At you, you stare at me
You smile, you tease
Don't play with me
You say to me
I swear, I set the table for two
Ya, set the table for two
It's about me and you
I'm coming home to get you
And all the things that you say
Nasty boy who eat you
And you're mine, and I'm yours
Baby, baby, I need you and us

There's something divine in you
Something divine in you
There's something divine in you
Something divine in you

There's something divine in you
Something divine in you
There's something divine in you
Something divine in you

Something divine in you
Something wrong but there's a right
Don't take long, can't wait all night
Something strong, like a hunger
Waiting here for you to come over

Nothing's wrong, it's alright
I can make your candles light
Something strong, take you over
Make you feel like you ain't been sober
