Chinese symbols on his robe
Never gonna match up with that smile
He's wearing mostly black and gold
It's been twelve days, the longest for a while

He's been fortunate
He can't tell a lie
Redheads, blonds, brunettes
They all fall for his lines

He's been king now for so long His days are numbered Times have changed, so move along The dream is over

Draped across Egyptian linen Even Cleopatra casts an eye A gossamer see-through zipped up tracksuit Champagne bottle, ten o'clock on fire

He's been fortunate
He cannot deny
Jacuzzi baronet
With soap suds in his eyes

He's been king now for so long His days are numbered Times have changed, so move along The dream is over

He's been king now for so long His days are numbered Times have changed, so move along The dream is over

We've been waiting for so long We think it's over