

Free of Me

Goo Goo Dolls

I watch your patience going strong
I saw it in there all along
But there's no records there to keep
Because you took them in your sleep now
And I feel you holding back on the same things that you're lacking of
The simple things keep coming back to me

And when your voice is gone cause you're crying out too long
You know your words were echoing with me
And when you're pushed to tears from the magnets of the years
And the life you're living since you're free
Free of me

Thank God for every single time
We got to see a new sunrise
But when the darkness got too deep
You chose to put it all to sleep now
And I feel you holding back all the same things that you're lacking of
The simple things keep coming back to me

And when your voice is gone cause you're crying out too long
You know your words were echoing with me
And when you're pushed to tears from the voices over years
And the life you're living since you're free

And when your voice is gone cause you're crying out too long
You know your words were echoing with me
And when you're pushed to tears from the poison of the years
And the life you're living since you're free
Free of me
Free of me
Free of me
