I caught you stealing things you knew I'd give But nothing seems to matter in your life I come around to what I'm gonna miss But nothing seems to matter here tonight

And it's sad, I'm sorry Guess you're going blind

Say you're free now, say you're free
'Cause tonight this might just mean the world to me
Say you're free now, say you're free
'Cause tonight, this might just mean the world

Well aware of what the answer is,
But nothing means enough to fill that space
I'm still depending on the life of it
But honestly, it feels like such a shame

And it's sad, I'm sorry Guess you're going blind

Say you're free now, say you're free
'Cause tonight this might just mean the world to me
Say you're free now, say you're free
'Cause tonight, this might just mean the world

Follow superstitions close, They never fade away you know Your horoscope, your love is stoned Let 'em go now, let 'em go

Say you're free now, say you're free
'Cause tonight this might just mean the world to me
Say you're free now, say you're free
'Cause tonight, this might just mean the world to me

Say you're free now, say you're free now Say you're free now
