

Synopsis

Goodie Mob

G's get locked up and die, mostly over bureaucracy
And hypocrisy remains unchanged, keep yo brains unchained
Or ain't a thang gon change, if the pain don't stain
Then ain't a thang been gained and that's just plain insane

So I refrain from lames, ain't never played no games
And I ain't gon lay no blames, 'cuz I'm back, still trill, too
Take from me, I will kill you by whatever means available
What ever's viable, assailable, it's hell of bullshit niggaz

This ain't no click of just niggaz, this is an order of dungeon family Renegade crusaders and we gone make you believe in this here shit

Like we made us, just like he ain't paid us, these crack ass ni ggaz

Must really think though was what we made of Niggaz lift ya shades up, so I can see the soul of the fakers

That I'm terrifying, I hear thunder still clapping
And the lightening still blinding, the truth still hurts Comin' real steel works, kilts and steel skirts, though they st ill twerk

Emotions still leave niggaz to idiotic actions
And lots of people still caught up in just physical attractions
The fans, the business, the life so demanding
But they still ain't did shit 'cuz out here we still standing
