

If There's a Reason

Gordon Lightfoot

If you should need me deep in the night
My arms will open in shades of twilight
If there's a reason for livin' without me
Just let me know and I'll move on

Down to the station
With the big wheels burnin'
Gonna get my ticket
To play out that role which I've been given

Home is where the heart is
But at times a good home must be broken
The wine has grown bitter
From this harsh words we have spoken

If there's a chance for someone else
To make you feel life is worth livin'
Give it a try, oh lady
Just let me know and I'll move on livin'

Home is where the heart is
But at times a good home must be broken
The wine has grown bitter
From this harsh words we have spoken

If you should need me deep in the night
At shades of twilight
If there's a reason for livin' without me
Just let me know and I'll go on livin'
