

It's Worth Believin'

Gordon Lightfoot

There's a warm wind tonight
And the moon turns the tide
When the stars take their ride
She'll be leavin'

Where she goes, I don't know
She won't tell me what it is
Makes her act like this

But I've got a funny feelin' that it's me
It's worth believin'

Should I ask
"Do you like to go walking on the shore
And listen to the sea?"

Or could it be someone kind?
Could it be that I'm the fool?
There's somethin' wrong with you

I've got a funny feelin' that it's me
It's worth believin'

There's a breeze from the shore
And the waves overlap
When I've called in the cat
She'll go walkin'

And she cries to herself
In the night when I'm asleep
She lies awake and weeps

Could it be something new
Some one old who has returned?
Or is it just a game?

But I've got a funny feelin' that it's me
It's worth believin'

There's a warm wind tonight
And the moon turns the tide
When the stars take their ride
She'll be leavin'

Where she goes, I don't know
She won't tell me what it is
That makes her act like this

Should I ask
"Do you like to go walking on the shore
And listen to the sea?"

Or could it be someone kind?
Could it be that I'm the fool?
There's somethin' wrong with you

I've got a funny feelin' that it's me

It's worth believin'
