

Starved into insanity crushed beneath their mangled corpses Trapped and bleeding as I languish Ravenous and filled with anguish
In this rotting heap-savage appetites around As their blood pours in my mouth, In a frenzy I devour Body surging with new power With each shred I chew!

I shall emerge from this rotten mound Of putrid bodies, feeling a hunger extreme!
Digesting the remains, stomach filled with rancid meat Insatiable I crave for the taste of living flesh...living flesh

Overwhelming
with the strength of ten Crippling my helpless prey, making sure they survive Masticating chunks of flesh savoring their succulence Delighted by the tortured screams Voracious cont tasting better while alive

Bled and butchered just like cattle
As I feast the more I crave Satisfied for only seconds,
When I shit out their remains
