

I'm beginning to wonder what you look like
As days go by, I hardly recognize
Too tired to leave, too tired to fight
But sometimes, it's alright
I'm fooling myself but seeing you so
You were full of yourself, assuming and cold
But sooner or later that story gets old
Too old, it's been told

I'm not in love
Who did you think I was
I'm not above the rest of us
And just because I tremble when we touch
I'm not in love with you
I'm just involved
I'm just involved with you

I liked you so much I turn a blind eye
You were on my mind 90% of the time
The laws of attraction can be unkind
Or too kind, a fine line
I was spending my days forgetting the nights
You were MIA and out of sight
A bad mistake and that's putting it nice
It's true right

I'm not in love
Who did you think I was
I'm not above the rest of us
And just because I tremble when we touch
I'm not in love with you
I'm just involved
I'm just involved with you

All of my life
I worked for what was mine
All of the nights
I sat at home and cried
Could've been mine but you took more than you gave
Take my advice and hear me when I say

I'm not in love
Who did you think I was
Oh, I'm not above the rest of us
And just because I tremble when we touch
I'm not in love with you
I'm just involved (2x)

I'm just involved with you
