

Jealous Girls

Gossip

You said your peace
It's killing me
I can't believe
It's over, over, over

You're not the enemy
But underneath
You don't agree
Take comfort that
It's over, over

Your hands tied
You feel shy
Believe I'm on your side
Now and forever
Over

Jealousy won't get you anything that you lost
Jealousy it will never be what it was
Jealousy well I'm afraid of what I've become
Jealousy it feels like everything's come undone

You're not the enemy
But underneath
You don't agree
Take comfort that it's over
Over
There's an urgency
A dire need For the remedy
Take comfort that it's over
Over

Jealousy won't get you anything that you lost
Jealousy it will never be what it was
Jealousy well I'm afraid of what I've become
Jealousy it feels like everything's come undone

No matter what the price, they can't take me
No matter what the price, they can't take me
No matter what the price, they can't take me
No matter what the price, they can't take me
No matter what the price, they can't take me
