

A Rolling Stone

Grace Jones

I've been keeping my life just a rolling stone
When I needed your love, baby, your'e always gone
In my life I know that something is missing
Grains of sand is really all you've been giving

I need more loving baby, I need more kissing
Now I won't grow what you got

They say a rolling stone it never gathers no moss
One day you will slow down and find that love is lost
In my life I know that something is missing
Grains of sand is really all you've been giving

I need more loving baby, I need more kissing
Now I won't grow what you got
Now I won't grow what you got

And a feeling what you're flower would grow
Love is just the same
All it needs is tender love and care
Behind the rock of those?

Now I won't grow what you got
Now I won't grow what yougot

In my life I know that something is missing
Baby, grains of sand is really all you've been giving

I need more loving baby, I need more kissing
Now I won't grow what you got
Now I won't grow what you got
Now I won't grow what you got