

Sending A Note

Graham Colton Band

There's a reason for everthing
'cause anything can turn you around
There's a dead end for everyone
'cause anyone can let you down
So don't tell me 'cause I found out
There's notbody to hear me out
I'm sending a note to everyone
Pretending that I can be someone who is better off alone
All of the ways I went too far
There's a car parked in every drive
Just seeing how you're doing
I'm sending you a note it's been too long
And every wife all went away
There's a blue sky that's touching down
So don't tell me 'cause I found out
So sorry to let you down
And every town all looks the same
I'm sending a note to everyone
Just seeing how you're doing
Pretending that I can be someone who is better off alone
I'm sending you a note it's been too long
All of the ways I went too far
So don't tell me 'cause I found out
