Keep Hope Alive

Graham Coxon

When you want to fall apart When you want to hide away You should keep hope alive When you feel adrift inside And feel your optimism slide away You should keep hope alive

When your world just makes you cry When your will to live has died away You should keep hope alive