

Sorrow's Army

Graham Coxon

sorrow's army sorrow's army bleeds sorrow's army sorrow's army bleeds sees his chest wide open, falls to his knees sorrow's army sorrow's army bends sorrow's army sorrow's army b ends sees the darkness and prays for painless end drag your bodies homewards mend your broken minds there is anot her way now still time to say bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye sorrow's army sorrow's army smiles sorrow's army sorrow's army smiles sees his wife a holding his little darling child have you tired of what you see? is it all pain and grief? oh yo ur out of time now no time to say bye bye bye bye bye bye bye b ye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye sorrow's army sorrow's army army dies sorrow's army sorrow's ar my dies sees his wife at home and feels his body cry mend your broken minds now sing your empty hymns oh its time to die now no time to say bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye bye
