

Raving Storms

Grailknights

Our sea-weary eyes
Our wind-tormented eyes
Are we driving on paradise
Or have we wasted all these years?

The wind is silent, the water is clear
But I feel something drawing near
Dry the tears of memory
Take a glance at the roaring sea

Ancient tune, gale's tranquil melody
Winds arouse the drowsy sea
Callous waves come crashing down
The maelstrom spins, we slowly drown

Raving Storms

The sun reveals a foreign land
On my knees I kiss the sand
Close to death in the cyclone's eye
It's time to live and not to die!

Raving Storms

Time wears away as I'm pushed underneath
My life fades away as my powers decrease
