Tranquility's Embrace

Grailknights

Now that I know that Nothing remains Stronger I am for there is No time to waste Make sure you are not Only a piece of flesh Make your life a tale Either good or bad

Close to the embrace of tranquility The sun is diving into the sea Take a deep breath and Save your dreams Raise your voice and sing with me

Long-lost days will dawn again Despair and sorrow will Fade in the end All the pain you suffer All the tears you cry Are not in vain For they show you are alive

Lonely I dwell in a Black endless night Still I am waiting for a Bright-shining light Take me away from Darkness and fear Send me a sign that Salvation is near

Stay awake, don't fall asleep Carry on, hold on to your belief There'll be times to show strength There'll be times to bleed Now raise your voice and sing with me

Long-lost days will dawn again Despair and sorrow will Fade in the end All the pain you suffer All the tears you cry Are not in vain For they show you are alive

Feel the morning sun warm your skin Let a new day begin

Long-lost days will dawn again Despair and sorrow will Fade in the end All the pain you suffer All the tears you cry Are not in vain For they show you are alive Tištěno z www.txp.cz