

No Reason Why

Grand Funk Railroad

You ain't gonna live as long as you figure
Cause somebody's got a gun and their fingers on the trigger
You gave e'm a bad line and you went down for the very last time
You wanted to live somebody wants you to die and there's no reason why

Life ain't as long as you want it
Cause somebody's got a bullet with your name written on it
You gave e'm a bad line and you went down for the very last time
You wanted to live somebody wants you to die and there's no reason why

I'm not afraid of what you might do to me
Cause if the back turns the tide will turn as they will see
But in the meantime they got their eye on you
And when the shots fired there's nothin you can do ooo

You wanted to live they want you to die
There's no reason why no reason why
You ain't gonna live no reason why
No reason why no reason why
No reason why no reason why
