

Saddest Vacant Lot In All The World

Grandaddy

She's in the kitchen crying by the oven
It seems she really loved him
And he's so drunk he's passed out in a Datsun
That's parked out in the hot sun
In the saddest vacant lot in all the world

Boldly going where he rarely knows
But he'll miss her when he goes
What a shame as she drifts out of reach
While he's still drunk asleep
In the saddest vacant lot in all the world

Saddest vacant lot in all the world
Saddest vacant lot in all the world
Saddest vacant lot in all the world
