

Fed by the Beasts

Graveland

One day an eagle kidnapped him. When he was only two years old.
Eagle
raised
him to infinite expanses And brought him to his nest.
Eagle's claws were very sharp. They wounded his body hard. The blood was running plentifully. Nobody could hear his screams and call!
An eagle had no children. So he was bringing meat and feeding t he nipper.
Why did Gods choose such a fate for him? Why didn't eagle kill this child?
Winters and years passed away. An eagle taught his son to kill unexpectedly.
A wolf taught his daughter to hunt and beset the victim.
Nowadays their home villages are covered by ashes and trees bro ught to the ground. All of their families passed away. Because nobody wante d to except new belief. They fought and died in fight till the last breath.
One day she retired from home. The herd of wolves appeared on t he forest's border. It happened in winter and when herd felt a hunger. A wo lf caught
her
and went into the woods.
Screams and cry didn't change anything. Wolfish fangs wounded h er
painfully.
She couldn't do anything, she was too little. She was only few years old.
A wolf had no children. So he was bringing meat and feed her. W hy did
Gods
choose such a fate for her? Why didn't wolf kill her feeling hu nger?
Today no christian can enter the woods... Armoured knights goin g for hunting
never come back. Blood permeates through the earth fast. This w inter
wolves aren't hungry.

When my spirit was walking through the forest. I met her and him. It was very cold evening and the sun was setting. They stood on the forest border.
The wind was blowing through their hair...
And night was falling down.
Lyrics by: Darken '96