

Twenty minutes left till midnight I'm staring at the door
I swore last time I wouldn't wait no more
Every time she leaves me hanging I suffer and I bleed
But when she gives me loving she gives me all I need
And she knows I want her more than I can bear

Hey, little mama, won't you come along with me?
I got that mood for loving and I need some company
Hey, little sister, why don't you come along?
It feels so good I know it can't be wrong
Hey, hey, little mama

Well I got no paid vacation and I got no limousine
Ain't got no star on Hollywood or my picture in a magazine
But I've more than I can handle and she's more than I can spend
So here I am waiting around again
And she knows I need her more than I can stand

Hey, little mama, won't you come along with me?
I got that mood for loving and I need some company
Hey, little sister, why don't you come along?
It feels so good I know it can't be wrong
Hey, hey, little mama

Right here in your loving arms I wish that I could stay
Endless nights of ecstasy ride my blues away
Darling can't believe that I'm staring at this door
I swore last time I wouldn't wait no more

Hey, little mama, won't you come along with me?
I got that mood for loving and I need some company
Hey, little sister, why don't you come along?
It feels so good I know it can't be wrong
Hey, hey, little mama
Hey, hey, little mama
