

Breath

Greedy Invalid

Breathe me in Breathe me out
It's a fear
that won't subside
in my darkened soul of pain for evermore

And I
I will call you
I will call your name out loud on the wind Dying to magnify
this wretched poison eating my life piece by piece

Trying to see inside of you I get the sense of being isolated Away from you
There is no medicine there
There is no remedy
for the broken hearted
for the corpse, for me

Still the fear
that holds your arms
It grows on and on
I know

Flowing in my veins
and all the life
in vain
The bloom of your youth that cherished
For nothing
