

Melt Away

Greedy Invalid

Lonely miserable
A lost boat in the sea
Still carrying some hope
That continent is near

I try to find the way
In this stream of distant fear
Lonely miserable
So will you be my lead?

Mate, tell me your secret
And what did you see
A few people being free
The rest is empty and they are fake
They're so "happy"

And I am flying through the sky
Like eyeblind, baby
Can you see my hair movin?
Craziness all around

This is the real world
You've heard so much about

Look as they are quickly melting
Into themselves
Becoming their own graves

Leaves maybe falling
The tree still blooms
If you feel like a stranger
You're different
The one who differs
Is the one who cares
About the meaning

About the consequences
That are so awful that you can't even
Let yourself think about these
You would go nuts

Rivers are floating
And I am still gone

Leaving the population
Leaving the Rome
Leaving the whole rotting mankind
I say, staying myself being I all the time
