

Useless killing

Greedy Invalid

In front of enemy lines death floats in the air A soldier runs in panic and the bullet just hit his head Now for one last time he's opening his eyes And he says to the girl he loved all his life:

This event needn't happen though
My life has been lost as part of a show
You know hate is fire which will crush this world
Just take a look at history
Why couldn't we live in harmony?
Why couldn't we take notice of Killing is very bad for health?

It was the first world war when such a situation happened
The British landed in Gallipoli to beat the Turkish men But every time they attacked a thousand of them died The commander then at last notified that this must stop

These events needn't happen though These lives have been lost as part of a show
You know hate is fire
which will crush this world
Just take a look at history
Why couldn't we live in harmony?
Why couldn't we take notice of KILLING IS VERY BAD?

Yeah, what was next? I'll tell you - the envoy has been sent out He ran to the chief command and back with the message: "Stop!"
But in half an hour next attack must be done and he can't overtake because he's running out of time
