

The Narrow Road

Greeley Estates

Life is a lesson built solely on pain
Few choose the narrow way
Life is a story that's written in blood
If you choose the narrow way

Listen son, don't turn away
Hide these words deep in your heart
With the storms approaching
Don't lose your way
The storms are approaching
Hold your ground

Life is a lesson built solely on pain
Few choose the narrow way
Life is a story that's written in blood
If you choose the narrow way

You can let it go, but look back
Don't let fear take hold of you
You can feel it building, it crawls in your skin
You can feel it building, don't give in

Don't be the wave that's tossed by the sea
Don't let fear take hold of you
Hide all these words deep in your heart
The storms are approaching, hold your ground

Like a shipwreck that's at sea your swept away

Guards your heart, stare down your fear
Overcome it, be released
And you wont drown among the waves
Hold on to this and you wont drown among the waves

You can let it go, but don't look back
Don't let fear take hold of you
You can feel it coming, it claws at your heels
You can feel it coming, don't look back

Let it go and don't look back
Don't let fear take hold of you
