Ashley

Ashley! Are you running around? Now you're crying at a bloody murder Ashley! Are you bumming around? You are crying on my cold shoulder

You used a tangled mind with your puppet strings You tangled your desires right in front of my face You let me into the world but wouldn't let me drink Swallowing my pride and I never even got the taste

But time comes around and I'm not so naive I've finally lost touch cause you're so out of reach You say that you're fine but I know that you ain't You're looking like hell and you're no fucking saint

Ashley! Are you running around? Now you're crying at a bloody murder Ashley! Are you bumming around? You are crying on my cold shoulder Ashley! Are you running around? Now you're crying at a bloody murder Ashley! Are you bumming around? You are crying on my cold shoulder

You are what you are A wish on a shooting star You are a filthy thought In my memory

I've tasted cigarettes and liquor on your breath You used to call it speed but now it's crystal meth Like when I loved you but you're scaring me to death This careless memory and now I could care less

But time comes around and I'm not so naive I've finally lost touch cause you're so out of reach You say that you're fine but I know that you ain't You're looking like hell and you're no fucking saint

Ashley! Are you running around? Now you're crying at a bloody murder Ashley! Are you bumming around? You are crying on my cold shoulder Ashley! Are you running around? Now you're crying at a bloody murder Ashley! Are you bumming around? You are crying on my cold shoulder Ashley! Ashley! Ashley!
